New Traffic Diverter to Be Tried Here

Temporary Barrier
Will Be Erected at Central and 29th St.

For a trial period of perhaps 90 days, Holland will experiment with a temporary diversion barrier at 29th St. and Central Ave. to curtail traffic and cut down accidents, City Council decided Wednesday night.

Action followed a report by City Manager Herb Holt pointing to a high accident rate on Central Ave. from 23rd to 31st Sts. The report included a recommendation from Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff to make that section of Central Ave. a through street, but in view of the fact that the idea is not compatible with the master plan, the city manager recommended that the matter be referred to the planning commission for further study and recommendation.

Since the planning commission's recommendations already are known on the score, Council decided to try the diagonal diverter method on a trial basis. This would call for a temporary blockade running from northeast to southwest at the 29th St. crossing in the vicinity of the South Side Christian school. Diversion of traffic at this intersection would allow parents driving children to school to approach the building even though diverted by the diagonal barrier.

Motion to establish the barrier on a trial basis was made by Councilman Raymond Holwerda who pointed out other cities have advanced such methods with fairly good success. He said discouraging through traffic in this area would maintain the residential character of the area in the triangle bounded by the highways on State St. and Michigan Ave.

Councilman Robert J. Kow asked about the accident record and was informed that there has been five major accidents on Central Ave. in 1957 and four in 1956, plus many of a minor nature.

City Manager Herb Holt, when asked his opinion, said he was interested in the technique advanced by this type of planning and felt it would be a step in the right direction to "see once," using a Holland colloquialism. He said he also would check to see whether this section of Central Ave. is used as a bus route. Vote to install the barrier on a trial basis for 90 days was unanimous.

In other business Council approved an application from William Mokma to move a garage from 162 East Eighth St. to 150 Reed Ave. via Eighth St. to location east of the city.

An application from Harlen C. Bouman representing Sun Oil Co. for a gasoline station at 264 East Eighth St. was referred to the city manager for report.

Council okayed the manager's recommendation to place more street lights in the long blocks between College and Columbia Aves. in the following streets: 7th, 9th, 10th, 12th to 22nd inclusive, and 28th to 32nd inclusive. His recommendation calls for an additional light in each block, plus a drastic trimming of trees to permit full effect of the units installed. Cost of 20 additional lights will be $480 per year. The program had been outlined by the Board of Public Works.

Council approved a recommendation from the Hospital Board to purchase or contract for the following items to be paid from the building fund: oxygen equipment, $700; fire extinguishers, $575; repairs to roof of remodeled section, $3,700.

Council also adopted a resolution jointly with the Hospital Board expressing sincere appreciation to Arthur Read for his untiring efforts in bringing the building project to successful completion and to the Board of Education for its permission to use Read's services in the hospital work. Council also received the final report compiled by Read on the construction of the new and remodeled sections of the hospital.

City Clerk Clarence Greengood read letters from U. S. Rep. Gerald R. Ford, Jr., acknowledging receipt of the resolution passed by Council Nov. 20 on harbor reimbursements and a copy of Ford's letter to the assistant secretary of the Department of the Army requesting that the necessary steps be taken to reimburse the city of Holland as requested. Greengood also read a letter from Col. Peter C. Hyzer, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, on the resurvey of the channel section of the Holland Harbor project. The letter outlined the proper procedure. Ford also wrote on the project stating he will contact the staff of the House committee on Public Works to lay ground work for committee action on the proposal for a resurvey. Communications were received as information.

The special Council committee on bus service to Kalamazoo presented a letter from P. H. Beauvais, Allegan city manager, at the request of the special bus committee, suggesting passage of a resolution regarding renewal of the franchise to the Peoples Rapid Transit Co.

The resolution protests renewal of a franchise to the transit company unless and until a public hearing on the question is held and that those protesting be given the opportunity to appear at the hearing. Members of the special council committee are William Heeringa, Nelson Bosman and Ernest Phillips.

The Board of Public Works presented a payroll and claims totaling $121,018.10.

All members were present at the meeting except Councilman Henry Steffens. The meeting lasted 45 minutes.

Library Committee Approved

Council Appoints Trio
To Hold Meeting
With Library Board

On recommendation of the Library Board, a three-member Council committee was appointed Wednesday night at a regular meeting of City Council to work out procedures with the Library Board on preliminary plans for public library facilities for Holland.

Mayor Robert Visscher appointed Councilmen John Beltman, Raymond Holwerda and Ernest Phillips to the committee. The new committee will hold its first meeting with the Library Board Monday night. The Library board also requested that the mayor, city manager and city attorney serve on the committee.

Earlier in the evening, Council tabled until the next meeting a resolution on the report of facilities drawn up by Kammeraad and Stroop, local architects. This report was initially submitted at the Nov. 20 meeting and was tabled at that time. The resolution is in connection with obtaining $2,500 in federal aid to finance the study. The amount is to be repaid if and when a new library is built.

The report points out that the public library has occupied half of the second floor of City Hall for a half century, and from external appearances the library has remained the same and library standards of necessity have lagged increasingly behind the national average.

Following standards recommended by the American Library Association, the report is based on needs for today and 20 years in the future, even though most public buildings serve closer to 50 years before they are replaced or drastically enlarged. Plans point to a community library to serve the needs not only of Holland city but Holland, Park, Fillmore and Laketown townships.

According to ALA standards, the Holland library which has only 4,037 square feet should now have 17,600 square feet and in 20 years should have 27,877 square feet. Book inventory is 35,262. Other libraries in the area and number of volumes follow: Hope College, 50,000; Western Theological Seminary, 30,000; Holland High School, 6,700; Holland Junior High, 5,000; five public elementary schools, 7,200; Christian High, 2,965.

Preliminary plans, based on ALA standards for the community, call for a library building containing approximately 27,875 square feet at a cost exclusive of land of $489,500. Plans also listed methods of financing, floor plans and architect's sketches.

Members of the library board are Mrs. Henry Steffens, Milton L. Hinga, Charles E. Drew, Mrs. Preston Luidens and Donald J. Thomas.

Says Pledges Still Needed

ALLEGAN (Special) — With less than two days left of the final week in the Allegan Health Center's building fund campaign, Executive Committeeman R. E. Myers said Thursday "it's imperative we raise $26,473 by Friday night."

"A miss is as good as a mile, in this case," Myers said, "and unless many others join immediately with the 'Good Samaritans' who already have pledged, we can still fall short of our goal."

"The fact that we are so close to our goal of $440,000 could lead to overconfidence and make some feel that their fair share pledges are not needed," he said. He urged who had not yet done so, to make their pledges at the campaign headquarters at 145 Brady street, or phone Allegan 419 or 80.

Since the drive was extended for one week, the plan to publish the list of all fair-share donors was postponed until next week. Myers emphasized that it would be necessary to have pledge cards in by Friday to have names included on the list.

Myers added that "those who give to the campaign are doing a wonderful thing in helping provide life-saving facilities. It is inspiring to have so many sacrificial gifts because they sincerely care about the welfare of others. They deserve the recognition of having their names on a permanent plaque in the hospital and those who use the hospital will always be grateful to them."

Final report meeting of the extended drive will be held in the Fellowship Room of the Allegan Methodist Church at 8 p.m. Friday and all campaign workers are urged to attend the meeting.

Meet Today
School Supt. Walter W. TAKE A LAST LOOK! — Razing of the old Zeeland high school building will begin in the near future. The building, constructed on Main Street in 1907 after voters bonded the district for $12,000, will be torn down by the Capitol Lumber and Wrecking Company of Grand Rapids. For years, the old building has been used for junior high classes. Persons attending the open house of the new Zeeland

Junior High Monday night had their last opportunity to walk through the old building. The Zeeland Board of Education decided Tuesday to give the job to the Grand Rapids company after it submitted the low bid of $3,350. The contract includes the dumping of clean fill to ground level after the building is razed.

"To cope with the problem," Weston said, "all units of the county Emergency Task Force will take part. There will be simulated evacuation of residential areas, clearing of debris, blockades of specific areas, re-routing of traffic, handling evacuees, mass feeding and sheltering, activation of various hospital emergency plans and handling of casualties."

Taking an active part in the test ment units of the county which exercise will be all of the government normally be called on in an emergency, Civil Air Patrol, Amateur Radio Club, Red Cross Disaster committee, State Police, State Conservation Department and the Allegan Aviation Association.

Stegenga-Hovenga Rites Read

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stegenga (Penna-Sas photo)

East Saugatuck Christian Reformed Church, decorated with bouquets of white mums, palms, ferns and candelabra, centered with a large heart of greens and white daisies, was the scene of a wedding on Nov. 15 when Miss Bonnie Hovenga became the bride of Henry Stegenga. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arend Hovenga, route 5, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stegenga, route 2.

At 7:30 p.m. the Rev. Simon Vroom performed the double ring rites following wedding marches played by Jackie Ortman Bill Bouman sang "Because" and "The Wedding Hymn."

The bride approached the altar with her father. She was wearing a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle, the fitted bodice featuring a high sabrina neckline embroidered in sequins and pearls. The bouffant skirt had a wide front and back panel of chantilly lace trimmed with sequins over tiered tulle, ending in a chapel train. Her chantilly scalloped crown held a fingertip imported illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white mums with ivy streamers centered with a miniature bride doll dressed like the bride.

The bride chose her cousin, Alvina Oetman, as matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of pink taffeta, with pink net over skirt, and a matching pink short sleeved taffeta jacket. She carried a cascade bouquet of white mums with ivy streamers. The center of the bouquet was tinted pink to match her gown.

Bridesmaids were the bride's cousin, Miss Paula Bultema, and Miss Janice Diepenhorst. Both wore floor length gowns of mint green taffeta fashioned identically to the matron of honor's. They carried cascade bouquets of mums with the centers tinted mint green to match their gowns. All wore matching headpieces.

Linda Stegenga, sister of the groom, was miniature bride. She wore a replica of the bride's gown with a lace train and carried a bouquet like that of the bride only centered with a smaller bride doll. Leonard Hossink was miniature groom.

As best man the groom chose his brother, Jerry Stegenga. Don Bouman and Stan Bareman were ushers. Jack Hovenga and Ronald Stegenga, brothers of the bride and groom, lit the candles.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hovenga wore a charcoal gray dress with red and black accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations and roses. The groom's mother wore a navy blue dress with black accessories. She also had a red and white corsage of carnations and roses.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the church basement. Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Oetman as master and mistress of ceremonies, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hoeksema who were in the gift room, Miss Wanda Brink and Miss Joyce Oetman who served punch and Dawn Hovenga, sister of the bride, who carried the guest book. Waitresses were the Misses Carol Beckman, Sylvia Slagh, Barb Kroeze, Arlene Beckman, Virginia Hulst, Evelyn Pieper and Beverly Hulst.

The program included group singing, a humorous budget read by Mrs. Albert Oetman; reading, "Father of the Bride" by Mrs. Garold Hossink; song by Bill Bouman and closing remarks by Rev. Vroom.

For traveling the new Mrs. Stegenga changed to a black and white checked dress with matching jacket. She wore a black coat with red accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations.

The bride, a graduate of Holland High School, is employed as a receptionist for Dr. Pieper. The groom is a mechanic at Vandenberg Buick. He also attended Holland High School. The couple resides at 1552 Jerome St., Virginia Park.

Reserves Win Big Too, 53-21

Holland Christian's Little Maroons got off to a good start this season by trimming the Western University High reserve cagers, 53-21 on the Civic Center court, Friday night. The contest was the season opener for both clubs.

The locals with plenty of size had things their own way throughout the contest. Coach Clare Pott rotated 12 boys throughout the contest with seven breaking into the scoring column. Three of the sophomores hit double figures for the Dutch.

Oddly enough the Hollanders blanked the invaders in the first quarter, taking a 14-0 margin after eight minutes of play. The second group took over in the next period and upped the count to 30-5 at halftime.

It was pretty much the same story in the third quarter with the Maroons holding a 44-11 margin going into the final period. The Dutch sagged a bit in the final quarter as the Cubs outscored the locals 10-9 in the last eight minutes.

Henry Sterken and Bob Kapenga led the Dutch attack with 12 points apiece, followed by Jim Smits with 11, Allen Disselkoen with seven, Ben Bonselaar with six, Frank Visser with four and Ron Goodyke with two. D. Stafford paced the losers with nine markers.

League to Repeat Play At North Holland School

Two full houses greeted the cast of the play, "Say It With Music" Wednesday and Thursday evenings presented in North Holland School by members of the Girls' League for Service of North Holland Reformed Church. The final performance was held Friday.

Taking part in the comedy, given under the direction of Mrs. George Kleis are the Misses Judy Veldheer, Bev Alofs, Bev Ortman, Judy Van Til, Delores Slagh, Judy Jongekrijg, Joyce Knoll, Phila Knoll, Joyce Smith and Marcia Bosman.

TWO MORE POINTS — Warren Otte, (No. 44.) Holland Christian center who led the scoring with 16 in the 54-18 victory over Kalamazoo University High Friday night at the Civic Center, is shown lofting in another two-pointer. Giant Jim Weeldreyer, (No. 55.) 6' 8" Kazoo center, drives in an unsuccessful attempt to block the shot. The Maroons' Jack Bouman, (32) and Cal Klaasen, (54) stand by in case of a rebound. Other Kalamazoo players are Tom Brown, (53) Allen Dowd, (15) and John Edwards, (33).

Dutch Spurt After Tight First Period

Holland Christian's Maroon cagers raised the curtain on the local prep basketball season Friday night on the Civic Center court by taking a convincing 54-18 win over University High of Kalamazoo. A crowd estimated at 2,000 fans watched the Dutch turn on the power in the last three quarters to turn the game into a rout.

It was obvious that the game was the season opener for both outfits, with plenty of missed passes and frequent jump balls. University High, particularly, had difficulty shaking its football legs, and never did get an offense working. Coach Earl Borr, Kalamazoo mentor, has only been working with his outfit for a short time due to a late football season, which involved a couple of his starters. Particularly in the shooting department the invaders were weak, hitting on just five out of 45 shots from the field for an 11 per cent average.

"We made plenty of first game mistakes out there as a team which will have to be corrected," was Coach Art Tuls' comment. Tuls however was pleased with the individual work of several of his performers, four playing in their first varsity game.

The first game jitters and some misplays, the Maroons were a good ball club Friday night. They possessed plenty of court savvy and some fine ball handling which could well pay off once the season gets in full swing. Tuls used his bench strength liberally, experimenting all night long with various combinations. Eight of his 10-man team broke into the scoring column.

In the shooting department, the locals did exceptionally well, hitting 24 out of 53 for a 45 per cent average. All of the shots were at close range, as the Dutch preferred to work the ball in for shots. The Dutch also flashed a fast break against the Kalamazoo outfit which netted the Maroons several easy baskets.

Cal Klaasen, senior forward for the Dutch, played an outstanding game, covering both boards with Center Warren Otte, and also scoring 11 points. Jir. Hulst playing his first game at a forward, also looked good as did Dan Bos and Jim Meurer at the guards posts. Big 6'8" Jim Weeldreyer was the big man on the boards for the losers.

The first quarter was a nip and tuck affair with both clubs showing tremendous scrap and desire. The Tulsens jumped off to an 8-2 lead before the Cubs narrowed the margin to 8-3 at the first quarter horn.

The locals got some balanced scoring from its front line of Otte, Klaasen and Hulst in the second period to spurt out to a lead which the Kalamazoo boys never again could threaten. Midway in the second stanza the Dutch had upped the count to 17-7. Reserves carried on to halftime as the Dutch left the floor at intermission with a 23-7 margin.

Sparked by Bos and Otte, the Dutch continued in the third quarter where they left off in the first hal, to build a 35-9 lead. The clubs played on even terms for the remainder of the period as Christian upped the count to 42-13 going into the final period.

Both coaches substituted freely in the "long" last period as they tried to get a line on their bench strength for the remainder of the season. Seven different Maroons scored in the last period as the Dutch won going away.

At the foul lane, the Dutch hit on 10 out of 22 tries while the Cubs connected on eight out of 15. Otte led the Dutch in the scoring parade with 16 tallies during the time he played, followed by Bos with 13 and Klaasen with 11. Weeldreyer paced the losers with six points.

Another big game is in store for the Dutch next Friday as they entertain the St. Joseph Bears on the Civic Center court.

Allegan Will Be Plant Site

LANSING — Michigan Magnetics, Inc., will open a new plant at Allegan about Feb. 1, company president Charles Murphy announced Friday.

The firm, which bases its operations at Vermontville in Eaton County, will begin operations at Allegan with 50 to 60 employees.

Murphy said several sites, including some out-of-state areas, were studied before the Allegan location was selected.

"One reason we chose Allegan was to have the expansion operation close to our present plant," Murphy said. "Our survey of other sites, inside and outside of Michigan, indicated there was not greater advantages elsewhere."

He said recreation facilities of the Allegan-Holland area also were a consideration in the decision.

Murphy said the Michigan Economic Development department worked closely with the firm in obtaining a suitable site.

The Allegan Improvement Assn. also was instrumental in the selection, the announcement said.

Murphy said production at the Vermontville plant will not be affected by the Allegan expansion.

Christmas Fantasy Given For Century Club Group

Century Club members and guests observed the Christmas season Monday evening when they met in the Commons Room of Western Theological Seminary. The program consisted of Christmas music sung by Mrs. Marion de Velder, accompanied by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow, and a one-act play presented by Hope College students under the direction of Dale S. De Witt, director of dramatics at the college.

Mrs. de Velder delighted the audience with her four Christmas songs: "The Precious Gift" by Kempinski; "An Old French Carol," Liddle; "Gentle Mary," McFeeters and "Christmas Candle" by Warren.

The one-act play, with four characters, entitled "The Dust of the Road" is a Christmas Fantasy which combines the messages of Christmas and Easter. Laid in the living room of a well-to-do mid-western farmer, the play resolved itself around thwarting a dishonest act being contemplated by the farmer and his wife, portrayed by George Steggerda, freshman from Holland and Mary Van Dyk, freshman from Lynden, Wash.

The Spirit of Easter in the person of a tramp, played by Vernon Hoffs, junior from Sheldon, Iowa, struggles with the farmer and his wife to bring them back to their heretofore honest life on Christmas Eve. The part of an uncle, suffering under the weight of the impending dishonesty, is played by Robert Fisher, freshman from Rosendale, N.Y. John Wiers, Grand Rapids, freshman, was the technical assistant for the cast.

Bruce van Leuwen, Century Club president, presided at the meeting. Dr. and Mrs. Otto van der Velde were chairmen of the social committee. They were assisted by Mrs. Jay Den Herder, Dr. and Mrs. J. Jaycees Issue Free Booklets

A campaign to help protect your child against the type of maladjusted person that preys on trusting children has been started by the Holland Junior Chamber of Commerce.

10,000 copies of a four-page brochure, "Do's and Don'ts on Dangers of Strangers," are being distributed by the Jaycees. Every grade school in and around Holland has received or will receive copies to be distributed to each child.

Free copies are also available at the police station and the city hall.

The brochures are printed so that any child who can read can understand them. The text is simple and printed in large letters; each "do" and "don't" is illustrated by an explanatory cartoon.

The brochure tells children never to take candy, money or any gift from a stranger, never to get in a car with a stranger, and never to play in deserted places or go out late at night alone.

The "do's" include travelling to and from school with other friends, marking down the license number of a stranger attempting to pick the child up, and running to the nearest house for help if attacked. Hal Thornhill, chairman of the Jaycee project, also recommends that parents discuss with their children the dangers of overly friendly strangers.

New Car Plates Must Be on Auto or Returned

Holland area residents are reminded by Frank Cherven, manager of the local License Bureau, that the 1958 car license plates are issued to the person, and not to the car.

This means that if a car is sold, the plates must be removed and placed on the new car. If the person's plates are not put on another car within ten days, Cherven said, they must be sent to the Secretary of State's office in Lansing or turned in at the local License Bureau, at 47 West Eighth St.

Plates Sale Going Slow

Holland License Bureau Manager Frank Cherven reported Friday the 1958 license plate sale has been going on "very slowly."

Since Nov. 1 the sale included: 1,265 passenger plates, 85 commercial plates, 25 former plates, 157 trailer plates, 8 motorcycle plates, 188 half-year commercial plates, and 65 half-year trailer plates.

Cherven again cautioned that the payment of $5 additional transfer fee is required for failure to transfer of title within 10 days from date of purchase. In determining whether the $5 additional fee is collectable, the bureau will count the ten days beginning the day after the date of assignment, Cherven said.

In case the tenth day falls on a Sunday or a holiday, those days will be included, but the transferee is obligated to submit the assigned title before the close of the office on the last preceding day on which the office is open for business, Cherven said.

Pickup trucks weighing not more than 4,000 pounds, will be registered as pickups if the applicant says the vehicle is a pickup, said Cherven.

There has been a great deal of confusion on the part of the public, said Cherven, as to the use of the words "And/or" on vehicle certificates of title. But he advised that the words "And/or" on a title indicate only the joint ownership of a vehicle and do not entitle one person to sign for both in event of sale or transfer of interest in the vehicle.

The License Bureau is open from 8 a.m. till 5 p.m. except Wednesday and Saturdays when the office closes at noon. The deadline for the 1958 license plates purchase is Feb. 28, 1958.

James Brown of 454 Grant St., reported finding the dead animal near his home Friday night and put it in a box in his garage unaware that a search was on for the animal. Later it was believed to have been carried away by a dog and there is no trace of its whereabouts.

The search continues and if not found, the youngster who was bitten by the squirrel may have to undergo treatment to prevent rabies. The boy, William Kaluske, was bitten when he attempted to place the wounded squirrel in a tree Friday afternoon.

Buried Ruins Described By Young Archaeologist

If members of the Woman's Literary Club thought Archaeology was a dull subject, they were quickly relieved to know it was one of the most fascinating and exciting fields of science as they listened to Stuart Struwer Tuesday afternoon when he presented his lecture on "Buried Kaskaskia."

He used colored slides to illustrate his talk which was fresh and exciting. The young archaeologist, 27, has a Master's degree from Harvard and is working on his Ph. D. at the University of Chicago. And the way he started in 1946, when he was only 17 years old, was a story in itself. His father and grandfather before him were manufacturers and assumed that he would follow in line. However, a shovel changed that.

Discovering the buried ruins of Fort St. Louis and the ancient city of Kaskaskia started at Starved Rock, Ill., only six hours drive from Holland, he said.

From Father Marquette's journal, the leaders of the expedition had to determine the exact spot to start digging, because only fields were in evidence to the ordinary tourist.

Digging in ruins must follow a pattern, he said. It is carefully diagrammed and mapped out before any real work starts and the work must go slowly in order to preserve any of the relics brought to light. A special screening is done to find all the tiny articles like rings or stones or arrow heads and tools used by these ancient peoples.

The colored slides Mr. Struwer used so effectively told their own stories. The graves in the cemetery told real family histories and often several members of a family were found together. In several slides it was apparent that large numbers of people were buried together, evidently the result of some epidemic, he said.

The French that came to Starved Rock brought with them many bad things as well as the good they were trying to do. Marquette returned to the Indian village before his death and according to his journal was glad that his voyage "resulted in the salvation of at least one soul, a small child baptized on her deathbed."

Pictures of the personnel of an expedition concluded the lecture.

GRANDSTANDING ..

The Parker Story

By Randy Vande Water "Buddy Parker should give up football and whisky," Watson (Waddy) Spoelstra said to more than 175 persons at the annual Exchange Club banquet Tuesday night at Third Reformed Church.

The veteran sports writer based his statement on the actions he had seen of the former Detroit Lions football coach Sunday night in the Philadelphia club.

"Don't get me wrong," the Detroit News sports scribe went on, "this Parker is a genius in football, but he is not a whole or complete man. He is more of an eccentric and when the pressure gets too much he lets go."

"It is a good thing he left Detroit. (Parker quit as Lions coach just prior to the pro football season.) Now in Pittsburgh he has started to tighten up again," Spoelstra said.

The result was the now famous "Philadelphia story" in which Parker took a verbal sock at George Wilson, present Lions coach.

Spoelstra said Parker had called Wilson and his talent director and assistant coach Bob Nussbaumer a lot of unprintable names. Parker claimed he had told the Colts and Bears how to achieve wins over the Lions.

"Wilson remained a gentleman throughout," Spoelstra said, "and went out of his way to do so. I think Wilson gained a lot of stature during the incident. Parker may be a brilliant football coach but in the long run, Wilson may have a better record and get more out of football," Spoelstra said.

Talking about the draft meetings Monday, Spoelstra said "the Lions would have drafted Michigan's Jim Pace as their first choice if he had not been picked up earlier. I regard Pace as good as back as you'll find anywhere. After fancy-dancing last year, he became a real hardnose football player."

Spoelstra regarded Michigan State's Dan Currie as the best linemen in the country.

He went on to say that he thought Michigan State's football team was the best college team he has seen in ten years since the great Michigan and Notre Dame teams of 1947. Spoelstra wrote a letter to MSU's Duffy Daugherty to that effect.

Spoelstra predicted Chalmers (Bump) Elliott is the "heir apparent" at the University of Michigan. He said that Elliott will be the next Michigan football coach and eventually the athletic director.

Spoelstra said Head coach Bennie Oosterbaan will coach one more year at Michigan. He will then retire from coaching and be re-assigned in the Michigan athletic department and forced to take a pay cut.

"Oosterbaan wants the job at least one more year because of the money ($19,000 annually) and because another year of coaching will give him (11 years) the second longest tenure among Michigan coaches, second only to Fielding Yost," Spoelstra stated.

Speaking about other Big Ten coaches, Spoelstra remarked that Forest Evaschski, Iowa's head man, "will quit after this year." He predicted Daugherty would wind up in the National Pro Football League. "If he gets a five-year pact he'll go into the pros," Spoelstra said.

Going out on a limb in answer to one of the queries from the audience, Spoelstra picked the Lions to catch up with the Cleveland Browns Sunday and defeat them. Switching to baseball, the veteran sports writer who has been official scorer for the Tigers for a dozen years, figured the best trading is finished for the Tigers.

"They won't trade Kuenn," he said, "but will probably trade an outfielder or two to get a catcher, possibly Lou Berberet of Washington."

Talking about the 13-player deal with the Kansas City A's, Spoelstra said "Billy Martin will play shortstop and should really aid. Kuenn will play right field."

Summing up the trade, Spoelstra felt that the Tigers had used their farm system for the first time to better themselves and that the farm has reached its peak.

Spoelstra said Casey Stengel (manager of the New York Yankees) had told him he picked the Tigers to be a solid 1-2 or 3-place ball club for the next five years.

Dutch Record 77-66 Win In First Game

Displaying its anticipated power, the Hope College basketball team completely dominated play at Civic Center Wednesday night to whip Albion College, 77-66 and take its first step toward what it hopes will be an unbeaten season and an MIAA championship.

A crowd of 2,100 opening game fans were pleased with the performance although they were a little anxious in the first few minutes as Hope showed the effects of an initial contest and were none too smooth. Albion had opened Monday against Tri-State and was slightly more polished in the first minutes.

But when Hope did hit its stride midway in the first half the Dutch didn't have any trouble pulling away and held a comfortable 35-24 halftime lead.

Making Hope's job easier was the good backboard control by center 6'10" junior Paul Benes and sophomore forward 6'5" Ray Ritsma whose board clearing didn't give the Britons much opportunity to score and offensively this duo was set for the tips and an occasional short shot.

While the backboard combination, which should be the best in the MIAA this year, was busy, sophomore 6'11" guard Warren Vander Hill was popping from out court and moving down to be on the receiving end of a fast break.

He scored four times in the first half and added five more baskets in the second half to lead Hope scorers with 21 points.

The score was only 16-9 with the Dutch out in front when the first ten-minute mark came around. Hope added 19 more points in the final minutes of the first half and showed more precision in doing so.

Having shaken all the early-game effects, the Dutch quickly pushed the margin to 40-25 early in the second half and then to 51-37 at the final ten-minute mark.

Besides Vander Hill's second half output, Ritsma came in for four baskets and Benes pushed through three, including a couple of hook shots.

In the opening half, Benes, who again appeared improved over last year with more ability under the baskets and a scoring threat with either hand, made four baskets.

He was matched by Vander Hill and junior transfer Wayne Vriesman, 6'4" Muskogean player, who will be another valuable reserve and potential starter. Daryl Beerink, 5'10" junior transfer from Northwestern Junior College, also falls in this category. His ball handling was smooth and his passes quick and accurate. He added three baskets.

Hope Coach Russ De Vette chose to insert Vriesman, Beerink and sophomore Daryl Seidentop frequently and showed that the Dutch will have the bench strength. De Vette used his entire 14-man squad in the opener.

The Dutch enjoyed their biggest point spread of the game with slightly less than four minutes to go when they held a 71-54 margin. Reserves played the rest of the way.

Ball handling, as expected, was the Britons' long suit. And they did it well. But Albion lacks the shooters this year and after working the ball in failed to connect and then lost the rebound.

Conrad Slover, Berrien Springs sophomore center, who failed to make a basket when the Britons played Hope in Civic Center last year, was the most improved player on the floor. He scored seven baskets and six free shots and grabbed several rebounds.

The Dutch made 35 out of 92 shots in the game for 38 per cent while the Britons sank 25 out of 76 attempts for 34 per cent. In the first half, Hope connected 16 times in 46 chances for 35 per cent and in the final 20 minutes, 19 times in the same amount of tries for 41 per cent. The Britons had 10-40 and 15-36 in the two halves.

Hope runs into another rugged foe Saturday night at Alma. The Scots lost a 68-60 contest to Calvin Tuesday but De Vette reported Alma outplayed the Knights but lost when two of their players were forced out on fouls. Alma was picked as one of the pre-season favorites in the MIAA.

Benes followed Vander Hill in the Hope scoring department with 16 while Ritsma had 13. Jim Wilson and Virgil Hall each popped 11 for the Britons who are defending co-champs with Hope.
